

Refugee Community Kitchen (RCK) was created in the Autumn of 2015 to help refugees living in the camps of Europe.

Having seen tens of thousands of people forced to leave their homes and living in awful conditions in northern France, a group of us – event organisers, chefs, caterers, doulas, and activists – came together to provide nourishing meals and access to fresh food daily.

We work 24/7, are solely volunteer-run and supported entirely by vital food and money donations. We need your support and involvement in order to continue providing nourishing food to people in need!

Many Thanks,

Steve Bedlam, Sam Jones, Paula Gallardo, Janie Mac & all the RCK team
